Have Faith

The Truthettes

Climb all your mountains to see what you see
Fly, all you warriors, and don't fear the skies
Ask all your prophets and then you decide
Heed all your warnings and see through the night
Feel the ice is melting, see it burning down
Hear the answers calling, look until they're found
Dance, all you dreamers and lovers of life
Know that there's more than just black or white
Shed your disguises and don't criticize
Seek all your answers and sleep through the night
Feel the ice is melting, see it burning down
Hear the answers calling, look until they're found
Feel the ice is melting, see it burning down
Hear the answers calling, look until they're found
Feel the ice is melting, see it burning down
Hear the answers calling, look until they're found
The answer lies inside
The answer lies inside
The answer lies inside
The answer lies inside
Have faith
