Miss You

Sleeper

Was it circumstance
Or was it merely?
That the sky fell down
And made you wearyI told you
But you already knew
I will miss you
I will certainly miss youYou look just the same
In all your pictures
Still somehow you've changed
A fitting or some fixtureI told you
But you already knew
I will miss you
I will certainly miss youLet, let us pretend
That we'll still be friends
You'll stay for a while
But you leave in the endLove, love is pretend
That we'll still be friends
You'll stay for a while
You all leave in the endDid a thousand stars come out
To greet us, now it's overcast
They shake their heads and leave us and
Maybe I just need somebody whoI will miss you
I will certainly miss you
I will miss you
I will certainly miss youYeah, I will miss you
I will probably miss you
