Watch Your Step

Court Yard Hounds

You're the guy that starts a fire and then you walk away
It's so like you to change the rules
Just when I wanna playBut there are pitfalls, deep dark holes
A mine that you can't see
I'm just a girl
To change your world
Yeah you could fall for meOoh... Once you start falling down, you're way down, and it's all over now
Ooh... You just might just fall in love
You better watch your step
In the bar we sit and talk
But you're not making sense
You're tongue tied, be both know why
I scare you half to death'Cause I'm a trip wire, make you walk on fire Balance on the
Who knew I'd sneak up on you
And push you off the ledgeOoh... and once you start falling you're down, you're way down, and it's all over now
Ooh... You might just fall in love with me
You better watch your step, you better watch your stepIt's a crash site, up all night
Making all the noise
I chalk it up to sewin' oats
And boys will be boys
But deep down, way deep down
You want someone to care
When the dust settles turn around
You know that I'll be thereOoh... Once you start falling you're down, your're way down, and it's all over now Ooh... Once you start falling you're down, you're way down, and it's all over now
Ooh... You might just fall in love with me
You better watch your step
You better watch your step
You better watch your step
You better watch your step
