

Everything Everything

The Mary Onettes

There, through the streets of your heart
We're only here cause we're meant to.Im watching you waiting
You want to know if everything is off the track
We're in the same play
I want to know what ties me to all the painDead, like a saint in my home
Reappear, like the ghost I want to becomeIm watching you waiting
You want to know if everything is off the track
We're in the same play again
I want to know what ties me to all the pain
It's in everything that I do
Everything I do
I don't say it but I need itI just don't realize
Everything is everything
I just don't realize
Everything is everything
Im watching you waiting
You want to know if everything is off the track
We're in the same play again
I want to know what ties me to all the pain
