

Salt For Your Wounds

AFI

There's a tear in my heart where the blood ran out
There's a tear in my heart where the love ran out
I thought we worked, pushed toward the same ends
I'll never be so quick to trust, trust againDisenchanted, disgusted
I regret that I trusted
I put my faith, my faith in you
You poisoned me through and throughI thought we both shared the same injuries
Now I've found it's you who injures me
My heart is cracked from being left out in the cold
I know you'll pay for what you've taken, tenfoldDisenchanted, disgusted
I regret that I trusted
I put my faith, my faith in them
They twisted the knife further inDisenchanted, disgusted
I regret that I trusted
I put my faith, my faith in them
They twisted the knife further in
