Escape the Fate

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Trying to tear me apart
Breaking me down to the bone
So listen closely, 'cause what you don't see
Is there's still blood inside this bleeding heart.Still beating, still breathing
Falling from grace, you laugh in my face

But you are the one who will leave with the beatingWith bleeding hands I fight for a life that's beat me down
Stand up and scream while the rest of the won't make a soundRising again from the fire

A Phoenix alive and inspired
You can't erase me, won't phase me
No one hears a fucking word you sayStill beating, still breathing
Falling from grace, you laugh in my face

But you are the one who will leave with the beatingWith bleeding hands I fight for a life that's beat me down Stand up and scream while the rest of the won't make a soundWith bleeding hands I fight with the pride left in me now

Stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a soundStand and scream
Stand and scream
Stand and scream

Stand and screamWith bleeding hands I fight for a life that's beat me down Stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a soundWith bleeding hands I fight with the pride left in me now

Stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a soundWith bleeding hands (stand and scream)
These bleeding hands (stand and scream)
We stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a sound
