

Earth and Water Song

Humble Pie

I'll take your word, if it rains I'll wear my coat
Don't tell me now what, what is to come. I live from day to day
Who knows what tomorrow may bring?
Love and fate run hand in hand
I know there must be a better land, ooh-ooh
Yeah, I know there must be a better land. I'll take your word that a moonbeam can be heard
Time passes by but my heart still stays the same.
She came just like the sun
I know she's mine, I know
You see the stars and yet
I am the earth and she is my water, yeah
I am the earth and she is my water. I'll take your word that your moon has moved away Mmm don't look ahead for me, I'll wait my turn, mmm. I am the earth and she is my water. I've found all I need is my love
In the day, oh at night, in the morning
She can tell when I'm down
I'll sing this song when things are all wrong.
I live from day to day
Who knows what tomorrow may bring?
Love and fate run hand in hand
I know there must be a better land
I know there must be a better land.
