Dying to Know

walking hand in hand through this so called life, believe in anything cause i'll never win. if you dont love me how the hell can i valentine, this lonely heart cries crack your liars smile, just walk away, if you dont want me how the hell can i, take these words you throw at me cause i'm sorry.

chorus:

crawling back from where i used to be, its who i am and where i lived before, falling down looking back to see everything come falling down, crawling back from where i used to be, its who i am and where i lived before, falling down looking back to see that i'm broken diamonds filled the sky of the starry night believe in anything i could ever give, if you dont want me than why should we have tried valentine this lonely heart cries, turn away from me, i'll stay tonight if you dont want me why cant love just die, take these words you've thrown at me, i'm sorry.

[chorus]

bridge

all things shine i'm alive again, broken hearts till the bitter end
all things shine i'm alive again, broken hearts till the bitter end all things shine i'm alive again, broken hearts
all things shine i'm alive again, broken hearts till the bitter end
all things shine i'm alive again, broken hearts
