Salamander

Scarlet's Well

There is a man made of fire
A man made of flame
He is a scoundrel and a liar
Salamander is his name
Don't be deceived by his candour
Do not pander to his charm
Don't believe the Salamander
When he says that he means you no harm

Salamander!
Salamander!

His manner is dry and laconic
He is arrogant, ruthless and vain
He will sip at his Bovril and Tonic
While you writhe in torment and pain!
He will stroooooll and meander
Spiraling in on his prey
Beware the Salamander
He always gets his way

Salamander!
Salamander!

He is a master of disguise
You won't recognize him till it's too late
His Spirograph will hypnotise you, mesmerise you
The Salamander will control your fate!
Salamander...
Salamander...

Salamander!
Salamander!
