Cody Bryan Band "Corpus Christi Heartbreaker"

Yeah it was 7:45, the stars just filled the sky, she was sittin there ready to go
We had a pre-drinkin bottle, coastin no throttle, headed to the Creager show
I was lookin for my chance, just one slow dance, and I would make my move
But when I came back from the bar someone was holdin you

Corpus Christi heartbreaker, you played a game knowin I couldn't win
Corpus Christi heartbreaker, I should have known that it was all pretend
You can't love her, you can't hate her
It's just how the sea bay raised her
Your average typical Corpus Christi heartbreaker

I didn't know what to do except watch you pretend like I wasn't there
And I thought about knockin him out, I guess I was blindsided, just a little unfair
And you gave me a glance during your slow dance, how ruthless can your heart be
So I went back to the bar and ordered a stronger drink

Corpus Christi heartbreaker, you played a game knowin I couldn't win
Corpus Christi heartbreaker, I should have known that it was all pretend
You can't love her, can't hate her
It's just how the sea bay raised her
Your average typical Corpus Christi heartbreaker

Can't fathom what happened right after the show
Yeah she kissed him goodnight, she walked straight up to me and said, "Honey are you ready to go?"

Corpus Christi heartbreaker, you must be outta your god damn mind
Corpus Christi heartbreaker, I should have known it was a waste of time
You can't love her, you can't hate her
It's just how her momma raised her
Your average typical Corpus Christi heartbreaker
You can't love her, you can't hate her
It's just how her momma raised her
She's just your average typical Corpus Christi heartbreaker, yeah
