

The Covenant

Betraying the Martyrs

The Lord appeared to Abram,
Under the tree of Mamree
Do not be affraid i'm your shield "O sovereign Lord"
You have given me no children
Until my corpse and my name will be forget My Lord, if my reward is just my estate
If indeed you, you can count them and my son,
Will be the servant from my household
Beneath the sky from the eyes of the slaves When no one care for us only your hands could protect our dreams
My descendents will be enslaved by your fault
As the light fade darkness come over him
However to let your father in peace
Near the river God protect your offspring
There are no tears in this nation When the sun had set and my prayers are burning
A smoking blazing torsh appears passed between the light As the light burn in the sky, a star, a child
When the sun had set and die, you pray for this night "O sovereign Lord",
You have given me no children
"O sovereign Lord"
Until my will be forgotten
Beneath the sky
There are no tears in this nation
