

Drunk With The Thought Of You

Sheryl Crow

1, 2, 3

1, 2, 3

1, 2, 3, go

There's something I need to show you

Head in my hands

'Cause I don't understand

When I don't even know you

How you've melted my heart in two

I wake up in the morning

Follow you and then hide

Just to watch you walk by

Comes on me with no warning

I think about you and I get high

To assure you I even exist

Do I tell you it's you that I've missed?

Well, if love is a cocktail of all that you do

I get drunk with the thought of you

I get drunk with the thought of you

I can't stand all this freedom

I've been there before

And it's such a big bore

You're all I ever needed

If you'd only walk through my door

To assure you I even exist

Do I tell you it's you that I've missed?

Well, if love is a cocktail of all that you do

I get drunk with the thought of you

I get drunk with the thought of you

I could wait my whole life for this moment to come

With a long list of beautiful chances I've blown

Well it's time I toast to your name till I blew

I get drunk with the thought of you

I get drunk with the thought of you

I get drunk with the thought of you
