Sirens

Savatage

All rightOn the sea they heard the voices sing
But through the storm the island's closes in Heard tales of lives lost at sea
Deserted beach just beyond the reach
You're approaching the island of theSirens, sirens
Hungry for man tonight
Sirens, sirens
Claiming the sailors' livesNine men made it to a shore
A night of terror, lies neatly in store
Who are those women, are they real?
Is this just a crazy dream?
You're approaching the island of theSirens, sirens
Hungry for flesh tonight
Sirens, sirens
Claiming the sailors' livesTerror happens quickly
Remains till the sailors' are gone
They vanished in the night
Sirens, singing their song
Whoa, till they're goneAll right
