

Your Love

Middle Kids

Let's face it
You're a little bit faded
And I am innocent and unstable
I guess isn't so bad
When I know that we're gonna make it
They can't take it away from us
Our love is too strong
We've been making our way
Through all the pushups come down
We're still figuring out what it is but we Know where we came from
Sometimes I wanna give up on this love
But then I hear you call
Can you take it
I'm a woman without reason
And I'm living not out to fake it
They can't take it away from us
Our grip is too strong
We've been making our way through all
The pushups come down
We're still figuring out what is it
But we know where we came from
Sometimes I wanna give up on this love
And then I hear you call
Sometimes I wanna give up on this love
And then I can see all the changes
Feels like I'm one step back
From all of your back pages
But I can figure you out
But it only rearranges
They can't take it away from us
Our grip is too strong
We've been making our way through all
The pushups come down
We're still figuring out what is it
But we know where we came from
Sometimes I wanna give up on this love
And then I hear you call
Sometimes I wanna give up on this love
And then I hear you call
Sometimes I wanna give up on it all
But then I feel your love
