

Angry Again

Done Again

The more of you that I inspect

The more of me I see reflect

The more I try to read your lips

The more the mask you're wearing ripsBut when I seek out your voice

My ears are overcome with noise

You show and tell with greatest ease

Raving impossibilitiesEngaged in crime, I grasp my throat

Enraged my mind, starts to smoke

Enforce a mental overload

Angry again, angry again, angry, owAnd when the story takes a twist

If folds like a contortionist

Slight of hand and quick exchange

The old tricks have been rearrangedEngaged in crime, I grasp my throat

Enraged my mind, starts to smoke

Enforce a mental overload

Angry again, angry again, angryThe searing of the sinew, my body fights for air

The ripping of the tissue, my lungs begin to tear

Gravity's got my bones, it pulls my flesh away

The steam finally dissipates and I make my sweaty faceAssociation that I choose, game I inevitably lose

Governed by laws, set up by me, fracture it's jaw to let me be

A cut-out cardboard condo maze, filled with an insubordinate race

Irrational youths stop to stare as music rubber hosed the airEngaged in crime, I grasp my throat

Enraged my mind, starts to smoke

Enforce a mental overload

Angry again, angry again, angry again

And again and again, againEngaged in crime, I grasp my throat

Enraged my mind, starts to smoke

Enforce a mental overload

Angry again, angry again, angry, ow
