FastLane

Ed Rush | Optical | Matrix feat RymeTyme & Basim

It's lonely sometimes in the fastlane
People come and go like rain
And I look around for a hand to hold
But there's no one here today
Everyone has gone away
And left me in the fray
So don't wish upon a star
'Cause it's dark and lonely, gets you so far
And it doesn't matter who you are
'Cause the sky looks better from the ground
Anyway you never know what you got
And even if you do, it don't mean it's gonna stay
Tomorrow is another day
You only live once and I'm living for today
I'm living for today
So I drive around the superficial town
With a smile on my face
No one really knows how I feel inside
And I'm keeping it that way
It's my story to replay
And the fastlane's where I wanna stay
So don't wish upon a star
'Cause it's dark and lonely, gets you so far
And it doesn't matter who you are
'Cause the sky looks better from the ground
Anyway you never know what you got
And even if you do, it don't mean it's gonna stay
Tomorrow is another day
You only live once and I'm living for today
Well, I can't find my sanity
I'm bound to lose my mind
And I, I can't find my sanity
Well, I want to lose my mind
La la la
And if only I can show me
That nobody's gonna bring me down, yeah, yeah
So don't wish upon a star
'Cause it's dark and lonely, gets you so far
And it doesn't matter who you are

'Cause the sky looks better from the ground
Anyway you never know what you got
And even if you do, it don't mean it's gonna stay
Tomorrow is another day
You only live once and I'm living for today
