White Light

GEMS

killing time
or is it time that's killing me?
in the dusty sun
I could drink until I'm free when it's all done in the daylight, chalk and bone
I was graceful
like a falling heavy stonewhite light, white wine (I can't be a part of you)
I never wanted this for you (I can't be apart from you)
let my light shine
(I can't be a part of you)
I don't know how to get to you (I can't be apart from you)as you're leaving shut the door and leave the keys under the carpet
worn as thin as memories with all our patterns from what I've come to love and lost paper lanterns
crushed and swallowed by the frostwhite light, white wine
(I can't be a part of you)
I never wanted this for you
(I can't be apart from you)
let my light shine
(I can't be a part of you)
I don't know how to get to you
(I can't be apart from you)
