Glimmer

JJ72

Under dappled moons and under teary skies
This canopy is life and the stars are her eyes
She's angered at my fall and it's winter when she cries
Springtime reappears, wipe these tears from her eyesAnd it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones you love, I guess I love you
And it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones you love, I guess I love you
At least I hope I doVanity of day gives birth to a veil
This veil is remorse, it's the air I exhale
Oh, raging on and on goes to a mansion in the sky
Oh, raging on and on is this tear in your eyeAnd it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones I love, I guess I love you
And it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones you love, I guess I love you
At least I hope I doAnd it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones you love, I guess I love you
And it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones you love, I guess I love you
At least I hope I doAnd it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones you love, I guess I love you
And it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones you love, I guess I love you
At least I hope I doAnd it wouldn't be wrong to sing this song
To the ones you love, I guess I love you, I guess I love you
At least I hope I do, at least I hope I do
