

Dance of Fate (Orchestral Version)

Epica

When darkness will reign and blind us all
When darkness will reign and blind us all
Allegiance will blind us if we do not fall
We cannot tell when morning comes

Is there a choice to live another day?

It's hard to find a new direction in your fragile life
The precious time of your existence is now to come

Don't throw your life away by cheating time

Sugared placebos only fool your mind

Now I want the water to wash away all my sins

The wind to blow away my thoughts without meaning

The fire to burn away my thickened skin
When darkness will reign and blind us all

Allegiance will blind us if we do not fall

Novas portas pandimus
What is the space, the type of dance?

I cannot tell which steps I have to take

I'd like to leave, just run away

My feet are tangled up
So hard to face the pace of the clock

What do you think, will it ever stop?

So will I fall and not get up?

I take it all in stride
Now I want the water to wash away all my sins

The wind to blow away my thoughts without meaning

The fire to burn away my thickened skin

Everything has a reason for its happening

Can't you tell it's your own spell and

Everyone has to dance his dance like anyone

Can't break free of destiny

We should open new doors

And close the ones that we've left behind

Now I want the water to wash away all my sins

The wind to blow away my thoughts without meaning

The fire to burn away my thickened skin

When darkness will reign and blind us all

Allegiance will blind us if we do not fall

Novas portas pandimus

Et post nos occludimus

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>