

Carry You

Wavorly

Green river flows
like grass melting
later it will flow back down it's track into an ocean.

She stands on the bridge
dimlight on the back Someday
I will carry you
I want to float higher

above waves of electric wires stare down onto the street
see a drunk witl kiln-glazed eyes telling me about a girl I should meet Someday
I will carry you
