

Twisted Complicated World

Kita

I miss my friends again, although they're not so far away
I'm in that mood again
And I hate this kind of pain
I feel tired, I feel denied
Broke down into a million bits, I feel like a disease

Honey are you listening?
Because your silence drowns my insanity
Or maybe I just needed to scream!
When you're all alone and your soul doesn't live here
Is harder to fit in this twisted complicated world.

I've made a mess again, and I'll probably do it again
I'll never be the same after all the things I've seen
I feel tired, I denied
Broke down into a million bits, I feel so uneasy

Honey are you listening? Because your silence drowns my insanity
Or maybe I just needed to scream!
When you're all alone and your soul doesn't live here
Is harder to fit in this twisted complicated world.

Honey are you listening? Because your silence drowns my insanity
Or maybe I just needed to scream!
When you're all alone and your soul doesn't live here
Is harder to fit in this twisted complicated world
Twisted complicated world
Complicated world
Twisted complicated world
