Band Played On

Joe Walsh

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Look out my window see a world that's on fire
Some people think that we should just let it burn
With all this ignorance the flames just get higher... HigherAll of these people with their misinformation
Must be the truth if it's a blog on the screen...
We got to buy it it's the latest creationToo many icebergs out on the ocean
Too many chances to sink like a stone
The great titanic about to go under
And the band played onGuess everybody needs a new pair of glasses
A lot of shit out there nobody can see
Yeah everybody's got their heads up their assesWe're all out here dead in the water
We got a leak in the boat
We're all up shit creak without a paddle
Just trying to stay afloat[Guitar solo]We're all out here dead in the water
We got a leak in the boat
We're up shit creak without any paddle
Just trying to stay afloatToo many icebergs out on the ocean
Too many chances to sink like a stone
The great titanic about to go under
And the band played onAnd the band played...
And the band played on

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/