

Until You

Fear of Men

I feel the same dread I always did
I feel the same dread I always did, until you, until you
I feel the same dread I always did
I feel the same dread I always did, until you, until you
Lonelier now, forget who I am
In your arms sometimes
Visions appear like lines in the sand
They're the worlds that we left behind
Lonelier now, forget who I am
In your arms sometimes
Visions appear like lines in the sand
They're the worlds that we left behind
I wasn't born afraid
All these nights I lie awake
I wasn't born at all
This vile body was rendered in stone
I could fall from this
I'll die and with me the sun
I could conquer this, without you
Lonelier now, forget who I am
In your arms sometimes
Visions appear like lines in the sand
They're the worlds that we left behind
Lonelier now, forget who I am
In your arms sometimes
Visions appear like lines in the sand
They're the worlds that we left behind
