

Stella Is a Planet

Tripping Daisy

She's the melting pot of summer
She's a balloon with a gentle breeze
She can move around in waves of thunder
She is up when you're asleep
She's a pretty thing that goes
She turns me into something neat
She's a little thing that goes
She can spin you around for free
She is graceful in all weather
She repeats what makes you need
She has moved around the waves of thunder
She makes everything complete
She's a pretty thing that goes
She turns me into something neat
She's a little thing that goes
She can spin you around for free
When you're gone it seems
You've taken something outta me
For just a little while
Everything is so much better
When you can knock me off my feet
I feel so much better
When having you makes me believe
