

She Gives Me Religion

Van Morrison

Down the mystic avenue
I walk again
Remembering the days gone by
And I'm knockin' with my heart And all the girls walk by
In all their summer fashions
And the church bells chime
On a summer Sunday afternoon She gives me religion
She gives me religion And the Angel of imagination
Opened up my gate
She said "Come right in
I saw you knockin' with your heart" And the Angel of imagination
She lit your fiery vision bright
Let your flame burn into the night
I saw you knockin' with your heart She gives me religion
She gives me religion
It's all right All the girls walk by
In all their summer fashions
And the church bells chime
On a summer Sunday afternoon It's all right
She gives me religion
I said, "She gives me religion
And I'm knockin' and I'm knockin' with my heart"
And I'm knockin', knockin' with my heart
And I'm knockin' with my heart
