Feelings

Project Theory

(VERSE 1)
He taught her how to live without hesitations
He promised her that he'll always be in the station
He gave her wings and showed her how to escape from problems
Now she can fly and he can't find a way to bring her backMemories of the past come and pass by Every night in their mind and they must try
To forget all the moments that they spent together
Even though they know it won't be forever
Now it's late it's too late but he wants her
And he would give anything just to meet her
He says that he has everything under control
But he can't keep lying to himself for so long(CHORUS)
She loves him more than her life
And gives it all for his health
She dies watching him smile
And when he's sad, feels like dead
But now the days are gone
Sometimes life is unfair
Wish they could turn back the time
But it's probably late(VERSE 2)
She had the way to make him express his feelings
Inside her arms, kept him tight and wounds start healing
She thought that she lived in a fairytale for so long but unfortunately all the stories had a sad song, ohShe cannot hide her feelings but she tries
And she cries knowing that everything is disguised
And she's lying pretending all is gonna be alright
Trying to find a solution keep him out of her mind
Now it's late it's too late but she wants him
And she would give anything just to meet him
She says that she has everything under control
But she lost her mind fooling herself for so long(CHORUS)
She loves him more than her life
And gives it all for his health
She dies watching him smile
And when he's sad, feels like dead
But now the days are gone
Sometimes life is unfair
Wish they could turn back the time
But it's probably late(BRIDGE)

I still have some feelings for you so,
Stay and please remember those days now
Try to keep on thinking of me and don't Say that is probably late(x2)(CHORUS)
She loves him more than her life
And gives it all for his health
She dies watching him smile
And when he's sad, feels like dead
But now the days are gone
Sometimes life is unfair
Wish they could turn back the time
But it's probably late
