Baby I Owe You Something Good

Funkadelic

You came along just in time, my love
Self pity had got me down
You saved me from me and from the bottom of my heart
Baby, I owe you something goodYou came and you saw (You came, you saw)
Don't you know that you conquered
(Conquered my heart)
Whoa, my heart, just like the Romans said
"To the victors belong, belong, belong the spoils"Unreluctantly I submit
My heart told me that I should
So, so enriched was my reward
Baby, I owe you something goodI've loved and I've lost but that's alright
(I've loved, I've lost)
I blame, I blame, I blame, myself
(I blame myself)
While this old heart of mine, Lord, it refuse
To love, to love, to love anyone elseAnd then you came and rectified
All the love this old heart had been denied
Then you saved me like you said you would
For this I owe you something goodUnreluctantly, I submit
My heart told me that I should
Then you came along and saved me like you said you would
For this I owe you something good

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/