

Angelina

Gary Brooker

My temper's boiling like a thermal mire
My heart is burning like a forest fire for you
Sticking pins all over my effigy
The pain's no worse than the witch's heart you left with me
How can you fail to see my point of view
Or are your eyes a bitch's brew?
At first I thought you came from paradise
Then you split my world in two, but I love you
So tell me it another way
Listen what I have to say
Don't leave me for another day
Tell me that you're here to stay
There's something odd about the way I fell
Could it be those potions that you mixed up
Oh so well?
You spin your web but like a spider's mate
I served your purpose but for me it's not too late
You cut me deep but that is how I learned
You're just my cup of gruel
Familiar faces that you left with me
Are they meant to be so cruel? 'cause I live you
So tell me it another way
Listen what I have to say
Don't leave me for another day
Tell me that you're here to stay
That's all the words you have to say
Tell me it another way

Songwriters

SINFIELD/BROOKER Published by

Lyrics © EMI Music Publishing, BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT US, LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>