Conscious Burning

Common Rider

I saw a dark sign on the horizon
But that's not what I keep my eyes on Even in tough times, good people shine we say stand together, it's yours and mineConscious burning, everything's gonna be alright
We're gonna shake this town with a long forgotten light
Things are changing, but I am not afraid
We'll be together - Rockers of the very Last WaveWhen I step down they'll retire my mic forever
Hang it next to jersey 23 at the United Center
Tone syncopation, bigger the bet the better the win Consciousness party till the light's shining in Woah, Hey - it's coming down the track
Wa-ah, one two three to the four
There just ain't no turning back
Woah, Hey - mission of the Last Wave
Rising from the foundation that your true soul madeChorusMusic ain't nothing but expression of joy
When the train hits your gonna feel it and if you try to preach, that ain't nothing but noise
But if you're feeling love reveal it
This phenomenon comes from the ground of creation - without a doubt -
It is not a sign of weakness - to be real MoveChorus
