

Nobody's Fool

Miranda Lambert

One more night with the same neon lights
And I'll find my place at the bar.
One more down, so I buy one more round
And I'll try to drown out my heart.
He'll walk in and make every head turn
and he'll always be dressed to kill.
Day I left is my only regret
And now it's become his biggest thrill.
And all my friends'll say, "Hey don't you know him?"
And I'll try to play it off cool
When they ask I'll just say, "He's nobody"
And me well I'm nobody's fool

Won't take long and he'll find him someone
And then pull them out for a dance.
Every "no" tells me that's all she wrote
And reminds me how I missed my chance.
When he's done he'll have a little more fun
And he'll let her act like she's smooth.
As they walk out, while I learning about
What it is to have nothing to lose.
And all my friends will say, "Hey don't you know him?"
and I'll try to play it off cool
when they ask I'll just say, "He's nobody"
and me well I'm nobody's fool

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>