

I Belong To You

Monks of Mellonwah

I belong to you
My broken home has much to do
With all of the pain I have its true
Needles aside Ive no place with youI still dream of a day when Im closer
When I become all that I can beIn my surrender
In all conception
I still lose
In my ascension
Theres still no mention of youDanger keeps me down
I think Im afraid Ill sink or drown
Before the lights go out
Sing one last prayer
With no fear with no doubtI still dream of a day when Im closer
When I become all that I can beIn my surrender
In all conception
I still lose
In my ascension
Theres still no mention of you
