Come Home

Luminate

You're best friends with the word regret and You're afraid that your lifes been wasted
So why hope if it's only gonna let you down
You dont think people really change
That you're a mess and you'll always bee the same
And you doubt if you'll ever get it turned around

So you've been running,
searching for something
But you're looking in a place you dont belong
But it's never too late, you can't outrun grace
No, mercy doesnt care what you've done
So come home
(OH, OH, OH OH)
So come home
(OH, OH, OH OH)

You can try to fix your broken empire
And put bricks on a cracked foundation
But you'll be better than castles on the sand and there's power in the blood of Jesus
Your father's screaming "Just come home!"
And He's reaching out his hands

I know you've been running,
Searching for something
But you're looking in a place you dont belong
But it's never too late, you can't outrun grace
No, mercy doesnt care what you've done
So come home
So come home

From the shadows,
from the wrong roads!
From the darkness,
From the unknown!
To Redemtion,
Something beautiful!
To new love,

To a new home!

I know you've been running,
Searching for something
But you're looking in a place you dont belong
But it's never too late, you can't outrun grace
No, mercy doesnt care what you've done
So come home
(OH, OH, OH, OH)
So come home
(OH, OH, OH, OH)

Lyrics submitted by Alyssa.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/