

Again, Again, Again (The Crux)

Smashing Pumpkins

I love you, I don't even care
If it takes my life from heaven unaware
Sin for sin, I let you in and still I'm cursed
So put my heart on your chopping block to feed me [Incomprehensible] Don't let go, hey, don't let go
Don't let go again, again, again
When will I see you again before the world should end?
When will I see you again? When will I see you again, again? Struck deeply, some never healed
Caught beyond the reason I conceal
Judgment day comes everyday to us all
So fall in love, oh, if you must But don't let go, hey, don't let go
Don't let go again, again, again
When will I see you again before the world should end?
When will I see you again? It never stops the starting up the atrophy, the cruel enough
The vision of oblivion and when it ends it all begins
And start again and then you're in
So grab my hand should you believe there's a destiny When will I see you again?
When will I see you again, again, again?
When will I see you again before the world should end?
When will I see you again?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>