

You're the Only Woman

Ambrosia

Oh baby, say now you, you talk about the things I do
But baby, I yeah I'll try an' explain the reasons why
'Cause I've been thinkin' 'bout the things that we said late last night
When every word I said just didn't come out right
And you were so afraid that I'd found someone new
But darlin', well, there's no need for what we're goin' through
Because you and I've been in love too long
To worry 'bout tomorrow
Here's a place where we both belong
I know you're the only woman that I'm dreamin' of
You're the only woman that I really love
Baby, see what a foolish heart has done for me
Darlin', why yeah would you break my heart and make me cry?
Well now, you can't go back and change the way things are
And all this, this foolish talk won't take us very far
And so I hope you're listenin' 'cause I'm tellin' you
About the, the way I feel and what I'm goin' through
Because you and I've been in love too long
To worry 'bout tomorrow
Here's a place where we both belong
I know you're the only woman I've been dreamin' of (You're the only woman that I'm dreamin' of)
I say, you're the only woman that I really love
(You're the only woman that I really love)
Oh, don't speak, shh
When the pain of love surrounds you
And the world may be unkind
I'll put my lovin' arms around you
Take you far from this place and time
Because you and I've been in love too long
To worry 'bout tomorrow
Here's a place where we both belong
I know you're the only woman I've been dreamin' of, mmm baby
(You're the only woman that I'm dreamin' of)
You're the only woman that I really love
(You're the only woman that I really love)
You're the only woman
(You're the only woman)
I know you're the only woman
(You're the only woman)
Well now you're the only woman
(You're the only woman)
You're the only woman
