The Curse Of Feanor

Blind Guardian

Taken the long way
Dark realms I went through
I arrived
My vision's so clearIn anger and pain
I left deep wounds behind
But I arrived
Truth might be changed by victoryBeyond the void but deep within me
A swamp of filth exists
A lake it was of crystal beauty
But Arda's spring went byI've heard the warning
Well curse my name
I'll keep on laughing
No regret, no regretDon't fear the eyes of the dark Lord
Morgoth I cried
All hope is gone but I swear revenge
Hear my oath
I will take part in your damned fateI will always remember their cries
Like a shadow which covers the light
I will always remember the time
But it's pastI cannot turn back the time
(I)
Don't look back
There's still smoke near the shore
But I arrived, revenge be mineI will take part in your damned fate
Morgoth I cried
It's my oath
So don't fear the eyes
Of the dark LordSuddenly I realized
(Soon you will be free)
The prophecies
(Set your spirit free)
I've never believed in
My deeds were wrongI've stained the land
And slain my kin
(Burning Soul)
There's no release from my sins
It hurts, the curse of Feanor runs longTime and only time will tell us
Tell, was I right or wrong?
When anger breaks through

I'll leave mercy behindI will take part in your damned fate
Morgoth I cried
It's my oath
So don't fear the eyes
Of the dark LordI will always remember their cries
Like a shadow they'll cover my life
But I'll also remember mine
(And)
After all, I'm still alive
