

Lost Cause

Teen Suicide

we've called a meeting to mourn the death of art driving to the store
i'm not inspired anymore some days it's a lost cause anxious in the hair salon fix myself in the mirror i don't know what happened here am i stumbling?
falling down?
am i laughing out loud?
what a perfect day
it's been a while since I felt this way waking up by choice
the rising, rising voice staring at the sun
learning to cope with love i don't know if i have the patience to make it through this situation (to manage my expectations)
am i stumbling?
am i laughing out loud?
