

Lucy Can't Dance

David Bowie

Lucy, I know what you're going to, going to do
Oh Lucy, look what you're doing, I'm doing it too
Now you're looking for God in exciting new ways
I say trust him at once which is something these days

Lucy can't dance to the noise
But she knows what the noise can do
Lucy can't dance to the noise
But she knows what the noise can do
Did the world just explode?
Don't recognize anyone
But you've still got me under your thumb
Lucy can't dance to the noise
But she knows what the noise can do
There's tooling your frenzy in the Tole Savoy
And the sexual noise which is caught up a toy
You live and you die in the blink of an eye
Well, I can't make you dance, dance to the noise
Lucy can't dance but she knows
What the noise can do, dance to the noise

Lucy can't dance but she knows
What the noise can do
Lucy, I know what you're going to, going to do
But you can't buy me off in the sterile world
Who, who, who died and made you material girl?
Lucy can't dance to the noise
But she knows what the noise can do
So I'll spin while my lunatic lyric goes wrong
Guess I'll put all my eggs in a post modern song
Lucy can't dance to the noise
But she knows what the noise can do
Oh, this fellow are mocked by reality
Just a few simple words like I love you, I need you
Live and you die in the blink of an eye
Still I can't make you dance, dance to the noise
Lucy can't dance but she knows
What the noise can do
