Rendez-Vous

Dry blood covering all this forest
The soil will not be easy at all
Dry blood stains all the forest
Never knew where you came from

I saw your face in your hand
At least I know where I go
I saw your face in your hand
At least I know where I go

Disaster written on your forehead
Maybe you will listen now
Disaster cries on your land
I know that I'll never get home

I saw your face in your hand
At least I know where I go
I saw your face in your hand
At least I know where I go

I know, after the storm
I know, after the storm, I know
I know, after the storm
I know, after the storm, I know
I know, after the storm
I know, after the storm, I know
I know, after the storm
I know, after the storm, I know
