

Gone With The Morning Sun

Holly Williams

I tell myself lies sometimes
Yeah, I say, he and I are gonna be alright
But he don't know me, he thinks I'm happy here
And that this big ol' dark cloud gonna disappear
If he just holds me Oh, he feels the distance grow between us
I just can't wait to slip away Every night I know where I can find you
I just close my eyes and I'm right there beside you
Every time I reach out and touch you
You're gone with the morning, gone with the morning sun I wake up from all these dreams
I swear they seem so real to me
And it just kills me Oh, to realize this life that I'm living
Is nothing like the one I could've had
Oh, I just miss ya so bad Every night I know where I can find you
I just close my eyes and I'm right there beside you
Every time I reach out and touch you
You're gone with the morning, gone with the morning sun, sun
You're the only one, sun, sun Every night I know where I can find you
I just close my eyes and I'm right there beside you
Every time I reach out and touch you
You're gone with the morning, gone with the morning sun
You're the only one
