

Sleepwalk

The Golden Palominos

I think I've been asleep
I saw lights on the road
Clouds moving overhead
At a speed I couldn't follow
It was very dark
I tried to keep my eyes
On the white lines
But the sky
Where are you, where are you?
Where are you, where are you?
There voices in the trees
And if he came to me
I knew I'd feel him
And so I opened
Where are you, where are you?
Where are you, where are you?
Do you believe in anything?
Do you think it can be explained?
Why if I dreamed was I awake?
Why in his love am I afraid?
Why did I fall to my knees?
Why did I cry out please?
Please,
Please.
I think I've been asleep
I saw lights on the road
Clouds moving overhead
At a speed I couldn't follow
It was very dark,
And so I can't be sure,
But it seemed a little pure
For a sleepwalk
Where are you, where are you?
Where are you, where are you?
His hands are not soft
His voice is not loud
His comfort not mine
His justice not kind
There was movement in the trees

And then he came to me
I knew I'd feel him
And so I opened
