

Crawl

Chimaira

As I lay this all to rest shadows appear reminding me
Of all things left unsaid unsaid Maybe one day you'll believe that I will crawl
I will crawl on broken knees It's beyond what you really need forcing it all out of you
Will I make your life complete come clean Maybe one day you'll believe that I will crawl
I will crawl on broken knees Am I the sorrow that you won't reap?
Am I the secret that you can't keep?
I won't stop until I'm complete
And I won't stop until you believe I won't stop until you need, you need, you need me Just maybe one day you'll believe that I will crawl
I will crawl on broken knees Maybe one day you'll believe that I will crawl
I will crawl on broken knees That I will crawl on broken knees
That I will crawl on broken knees
That I will crawl on broken knees
I will crawl on broken knees
