

Where We Are

Mackintosh Braun

I noticed ... what happens... but it's ok.
A simple... distraction... gets in the way.

You don't need to do anything
Slow down, you move too much
This time could be all there is
And I wonder

How can we only live right now
If we always want to be Anyplace but where we are
and we're missing what we see

Can we only live right now
if we always want to be
Anyplace but where we are
And we're missing what we see this moment is priceless It's all we have to take now for granted

I can't do that

slow down, you move too much
this time could be all there is
and I wonder

How can we only live right now
If we always want to be
Anyplace but where we are
And we're missing what we see

Can we only live right now
If we always want to be
Anyplace but where we are
And we're missing what we see

Don't we all forget somehow?

Don't we need a place for now?

How can we only live right now?

If we always want to be
Anyplace but where we are
And we're missing what we see.

Can we only live right now

If we always want to be
Anyplace but where we are
And we're missing what we see.
