

Same Thing (Live Somewhere In Canada, 1992)

Barenaked Ladies

What does it mean to wake out of a dream and be Wearing someone else's shorts?
I've been around the block, at least on my bike
I was prepared for the news but not for
A full scale war I found me an answer, in a grocery store
I found me an answer in the form of an old man with a cardigan on,
This guy's got thirty years on me but he stops and smiles just to say, "Hello,
Didn't I see you on TV?" Must've been the same thing
Must've been the same thing
Must've been the same thing
Charlie Brown went through I'm in a comic store
Lookin' for some mistakenly priced comic I could Make a fortune on, in walks the Fantastic Four
I say, "Don't go;
That last issue was cool!" Must've been the same thing
Must've been the same thing
Must've been the same
Same thing (These things all end)
Who asked you anyway?
(You'll have to bend)
Who asked you anyway? I'm in a thunderstorm
Staying out from under trees never holding
Golf clubs, but still seem to be getting Struck by lightning, must be Something in my veins
My weathered veins Must've been the same thing
