

Graffiti

Noa Neal

I should have followed my head and not my stupid heart But I wanted the danger of taking it fast
I needed to feel something real I wanted the thrill like I'm riding on a motorbikes Speeding corners, late at night surfing on the highways moving to the fast lane feeling all rebellious said I could'nt care less throw me that I get burned but I wanted to burn Your pierce a skin you leave your mark
it's a beautiful paint
like graffiti on my heart
It's your design
I'm in the dark
there's no turning back there's graffiti on my heart paint it red, paint it black now there's no turning back
like graffiti on my heart paint it red, paint it black
like graffiti on my heart Thought I was tough enough And I could play your game but I lost myself and now nothing's the same
I wanted the thrill like diving off [.] climbing up the Canyon Walls swimming with the great vibe heartbeat feel alive told me that I get burn but I wanted it to hurt speeding up adrenaline you know I'll do it again Your pierce a skin

like graffiti on my heartlike graffiti on my heart
like graffiti on my heartYour pierce a skin
