Love and Doubt

Slow Runner

Suddenly the movie takes a bitter turn
She's in danger, we learn.
He's on board and hiding with a loaded gun, but it's ten against one.It's just the right amount of love and doubt,
It's just the right amount of love and doubt,
I found out.You're asleep and pressed up against my arm,
so lovely and calm.
But do you dream of couches in another town?
Other arms to pin down?It's just the right amount of love and doubt,
It's just the right amount of love and doubt, I found out.I prefer the tension and the slow relief,
A little dirt in your teeth.Just the right amount of love and doubt,
It's just the right amount of love and doubt,
It's just the right amount of love and doubt,
I found out...
I found out...
Yeah, I found out.
