

Here's Your Freakin' Song

Bowling For Soup

Baby, for years you've been saying "Why don't you write me a song?"
And I'm like "I don't know, I'm not inspired to write you a song.
But last night, I decided I'm gonna freakin' do this."

We've been together for so long
And you always asked me why I never wrote a song
All about you, about our love,
And about how you're the only one I'm thinking of.

I've been writing a lot, and I,
I can't just write
Here we go

[Chorus]
You talk too much
You never shut up
Everything I do for you is never enough
You snore, you drool,
You talk in your sleep
Won't get a night's rest until you're six feet deep
I promised you forever
But we both know,
We'll never gonna get along
You want it, you got it
Here's is your freakin' song

And all my homies have always said,
What you doing with that girl? She's fucked up in the head
My mom don't like you, my dad don't too.
And my brother says you look like the guy from Husker Du

I'm just keeping it real, this is
Just how I feel
Here we go

[Chorus]

I can talk, you get best
You stop dreaming I don't exist
I say yes, you say no

Like ?

With all the shit that we've been through,
This is the best that I can do
Can I still get lucky tonight?
Please?

Those are manners and everything,
I uh, I hope you like this song,
I spent a lot of time on it,
I didn't really spend a lot of time on it.
This is the chorus

[Chorus]
