Doghouse

No Doubt

Out to the doghouse with you, that's what she said You've been inside too long now, I must clean the mess Go into the backyard and will you, practice your tricks Go take yourself for a walk, you make me sick You're just a doggy, in a snap you're fetching the bone And you're barking when she calls You're hiding behind the fence, you've been disobedient Your fun and playfulness is so very becoming But she has got you by the reins, and there is no running Conditioned to salivate at the first sound of the bell And feeding you the remains of yesterday's meal Can you hear her calling from within the house? Well you're just a doggy, in a snap you're fetching the bone And you're barking when she calls You're hiding behind the fence, you've been disobedient Shape up boy

Your fun and playfulness is so very becoming
But she has got you by the reins, and there is no running
Conditioned to salivate at the first sound of the bell
And feeding you the remains of yesterday's meal
Can you hear her calling, from within the house?
If you would stop barking, she might let you out
At last she opens the back gate, you're released
You're now free to roam you've been waiting
For this moment for sometime and now you must go
Into the fields where there is laughter
There is peace and you're comfortable
Try to hold on now before she calls you home
You're in the doghouse 'cause you're just a dog
You're in the doghouse 'cause you're just a dog
