

Few And Far Between

Relentless

Times are far between and few I bet
We can look upon our lives without regret
    Of all the things I have done
    You think I'm proud of everyone
        Without exception
    'Til you make your peace with yesterday
    Never build a future I swear by what I say
        Whatever penance you do
    Decide what it's worth to you
        And then respect it
        However long it will take
        To weather your mistakes
        Why not accept it?

My hands for now are tied
I'm a body frozen, I'm a will that's paralyzed
When will you ever set aside your pain and misery?
No matter how I beg, no matter how I wish or plead
    You'll never be more than alive
    You'll never do more than survive
        Until you expect it
    Do you want to build a world with our lives?
        You better soon decide
        Or you can forget it
    My hands for now are tied
    I'm a body frozen, I'm a will that's paralyzed
    'Til you drop that heavy baggage you're dragging behind
        There won't be room for us to both go this ride
