Eating a Book

He Is Legend

There's a monster in my room, we discussed movies over coffee
And I think it's quite absurd, well, he got hungry, licked his lips
He shook my hand and tried to eat me and it's getting on my nervesDon't you think it's strange that I've been reading
(Still I don't know how to kill you)
I'm trying hard not to meet you when I am sleeping
(Still I don't know how to kill you)
Still I don't know how to kill youI've got tickets to a show that I know no one will be attending
And I think that you should go, well, I don't mind your complexion
Or even the fact that you are bleeding, it's just the way that it goesDon't you think it's strange that I've been reading
(Still I don't know how to kill you)
I'm trying hard not to meet you when I am sleeping
(Still I don't know how to kill you)
Still I don't know how to kill youAnd I don't mind the shape that your head is in
And I don't mind the shape that your head's inI want to see you explode, want to see you explode
I want to see you explode, want to see you explode
I want to see you explode, I want to see you explode
I want to see you explode, I want to see you explodeI want to see you explode, I want to see you explode
I want to see you explode, I want to see you explode
I want to see you, I've gotta watch you explode
I've gotta watch you, see you explode, want to see you explodeI've gotta watch you explode, I've gotta watch you explode
I've gotta watch you explode, watch you explode, watch you explode
Watch you explode, watch you explode, baby
