

How to Break a Heart

Westlife

Since you're not worth my love
I haven't given up
I'm stronger than that
(I'm stronger than that)
And though my heart will break
I'm takin' back my faith
Cause right now my world is spinnin' too fast
But you won't be the end of me
If you were the one you wouldn't hurt me so bad
You gave me the world
Gave me the world to take it all away
All you left me was yesterday
And this space in my heart
Now it's slowly tearin' me apart
I'm takin' all that I learned from you
I'll make it something I'll never do
I can't be who you are
You taught me how to break a heart
You taught me how to break a heart I'll make it through this pain
My dreams won't call your name
I'm stronger than that
(I'm stronger than that)
Cause I still know how to love
Know that will be enough
And this moment will fade into the past
You won't be the end of me
If you were the one you wouldn't hurt me so bad
You gave me the world
Gave me the world to take it all away
All you left me was yesterday
And this space in my heart
Now it's slowly tearing me apart
I'm takin' all that I learned from you
I'll make it something I'll never do
I can't be who you are
You taught me how to break a heart
You taught me how to break a heart I'm takin' all that I learned from you
I'll make it something I'll never do
I can't be who you are

You taught me how to break a heart
You taught me how to break a heart I'm taking back my faith
I'm taking back my life
I can't be who you are
Cause you taught me how to break a heart
How to break a heart
How to break a heart
Cause you taught me how to break a heart
